Semester-I (BBA)

Subject: Indian Ethos and Values in Management – BBA2XX11204

Type of course: Indian Knowledge System (IKS)

Prerequisite: Basic understanding of management principles and general awareness of Indian culture, ethics, and values.

Rationale: Ethics and professional conduct serve as the moral compass guiding individuals in their respective fields, ensuring responsible behavior and decision-making. Ethics and professional conduct promote fairness, equality, and social responsibility. These principles encourage professionals to treat others with respect and impartiality, regardless of background or status, while also encouraging a commitment to social well-being.
