Introduction

Under the Training and Placement Activities (TPA), an Aptitude Test was successfully conducted for Diploma and Degree students of Electrical and EC on 30th September 2025. The objective of this activity was to enhance the students' logical reasoning, problem-solving skills, and readiness for campus recruitment and competitive examinations.

About the Activity

The test covered important sections of quantitative aptitude, logical reasoning, and verbal ability. The activity was conducted in a structured manner to simulate real placement test scenarios. Faculty coordinators ensured smooth execution and guided the students throughout the process.

Outcomes

- Students gained exposure to aptitude-based problem-solving.
- It helped students identify their strengths and areas for improvement.
- Enhanced awareness of placement selection processes and competitive exam patterns.
- Prepared students for upcoming campus recruitment drives.

Conclusion

The aptitude test proved to be a beneficial activity in strengthening the employability skills of students. The active participation of Diploma and Degree students highlighted their keen interest in improving placement readiness.
